We walked on Paris

Grumbling, protesting, on strike?

Social movements have always been part of French history and daily life.

*From the French Revolution of 1789 to the Gilets Jaunes, via Victor Hugo's Les Misérables, from the Conseil National de la Résistance to the Charlie Hebdo protests in 2015, via the student movements of May 68: it's in the wake of past movements that today's societal advances and tomorrow's promises of social progress were born.*

Together, we're going to meet the Parisians who, through their commitment, their militancy and their visionary projects, have changed things for the better.

Paris of the young

Discover the daily lives of young Parisians who go to bed late and get up early, through what makes them indignant, what brings them together and what moves them,

From café counters to university benches, from beautiful neighborhoods to more out-of-the-way terminals, share their days and evenings as if you were there!

Sounds, readings, films, outings and concerts: what are Parisian youth passionate about in 2024?

Arts of living in Paris

A painting that moves you, a song that seduces you, a flavor that delights you, a film that dazzles you: so many small and great pleasures that we invite you to share as you explore the streets of Paris in a different way!

The pleasures of the eyes, the palate and the ears will be in the spotlight: we'll take a look at those little moments of amazement, those surprising scents, those gourmet moments that make you happy, sometimes so simply!

We'll also meet the Parisians who, through their generosity, creativity and ingenuity, contribute to making Paris even more enjoyable when you know its secrets!

The Olympic Games

Citius, altius, fortius" ... "faster, higher, stronger". And, since 2021, "together"! Everything about the major events, the little stories in the big History, anecdotes about unusual figures. The representation of the Olympic Games in French-language culture and media will enable us to discover or rediscover those whose careers and exploits have helped shape today's society. For, while sport is a leisure activity, it is also the arena in which great social advances are played out, bringing meaning to all peoples.

And, in this very special year, we invite you to a summer immersion in Paris, the city of Enlightenment, love and sport! Let's get on board and explore the streets, spaces and hideaways of Greater Paris, where sport is practiced by young and old, amateurs and professionals alike.
